

I prefer any outcome of your work to promote local and independent ISP providers. This may mean that large companies must be required to continue to provide connections for DSL service at a regulated cost to local service providers/independent companies.